

Shade – Screen

Marco Zito, 2014

Shade, as in the Japanese meaning of “divider”, has been restyled in a contemporary way and found a place in the living area. Shade is a filter, a divider, a compact system created for constructing spaces: decorating, separating, reserving private and intimate corners. The two sizes and the different textiles for upholstery allow for a high degree of customization in terms of space and product. The lyrical design trait of Marco Zito is evident in the lack of corners, an organic and soft shape. Also available with soundproof insert.
